

Problem Statement: 2 kg of water in a closed system undergoes a constant pressure process at 0.2 MPa. The water is initially saturated vapor, and then becomes saturated liquid. Potential and Kinetic energy effects are negligible. Determine the heat transfer and entropy production. Assume that the heat transfer across the boundary is uniform, and that the boundary temperature is the same as the water temperature.